

PROTECT SNAP to Reduce Hunger and Strengthen Local Economies in the DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

The Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) is the nation’s first line of defense against hunger, helping 141,811 people in the DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA put food on the table. In fiscal year 2024, SNAP brought $319,119,173 to the district. With 9% of the DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA households experiencing food insecurity and high food prices, protecting and strengthening SNAP is more important than ever.

! TAKE ACTION: REJECT PROPOSALS THAT CUT OR RESTRICT ACCESS TO SNAP BENEFITS.

Proposed cuts mean fewer federal funds supporting local economies, children losing school meals, and decreasing WIC participation for babies and toddlers ages 0–4. These cuts would increase hunger by taking food away from Americans in need, decrease local revenue, and overwhelm already strained food pantries. For every meal a pantry provides, SNAP offers nine.

SNAP’S IMPACT IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

- ▶ 13% of households in the DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA participated in SNAP. SNAP participants reside throughout the district: one in 8 households in metro areas in the DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.
- ▶ In FY 2024, SNAP participants in the DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA received an average of $193.47 per month in SNAP benefits. This averages $6.36 per person per day.
- ▶ SNAP helped over 47,211 children in the DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA in 2022. It also provided these children with eligibility for school meals. Cuts to SNAP would mean that children in families with low incomes would lose access to school meals.

KEY ECONOMIC FACTS

- ▶ SNAP supports working families. Between 2019–2023, an average of 69% of SNAP households in the DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA included someone who was working.
